ALLIED EXPERTS CONSIDER GERMAN NOTES

TREATY WILL GIVE TO ITALY A STRONG LINE FOR DEFENCE NEEDS

Draft of Pact Now Nearing Completion at Paris Puts Strategic Heights and Defensive Passes in Italians' Hands; Summary for Publication

Paris, May 12.—The peace treaty with Austria is nearing completion and an official summary of it is being prepared, as was done in the case of the German treaty.

Although it is not so stated in the treaty, the new Austrian frontier is that designated by the Treaty of London, giving Italy all the strategic heights and defensive passes.

Paris, May 12.—The French Foreign Office having been informed that the Austrian peace delegation might be expected to arrive on Wednesday, work is being hastened on the delegation's quarters at Germain-en-Laye, where the palace of Francis I. is being put in order for the reception of the visitors.

It is planned that the presentation of the terms of peace will occur in the most beautiful apartment of the old palace, which is located on the first floor and approached by a grand staircase, the walls of which are embellished with royal devices. The fireplaces and ceilings of the apartment also are beautifully decorated.

Two groups of nearby villas have been requisitioned for the Austrian and the Hungarian delegations. They are quite distinct, so that no communications can pass between the two delegations of the former Dual Monarchy. It is still the purpose to conduct the negotiations separately, but if possible, they will be carried on simultaneously.

GERMAN WRITERS BEING WATCHED

If Correspondents at Versailles Permit in Telling Yarns — They Must Go.

Paris, May 12.—An official note issued to-day says that a German correspondent sent to the Neues Vaterlandblatt a dispatch stating that the hotel at Versailles where the German delegates are housed is full of spies acting as hotel attendants, and that microphones have been placed in all the rooms.

The note brands the report as an odious invention and says if it is repeated the French Government may find it necessary to expel the German correspondents.

Dutch Comments.
Amsterdam, May 12.—The comment of Dutch newspapers on the peace treaty is generally unfavorable. The Handelsblad calls it a crime against Germany, "and above all against humanity."

The Nieuw Rotterdam Courant says: "The treaty does not end war; it continues it forever."
The Telegraaf, on the other hand, says: "Germany is treated with terrible severity, but really did not deserve a better fate."

AUSTRIANS WANT TELEGRAPH WIRES

Germans Using Available Wires From Paris; May Be Selfish

Paris, May 12.—The French officials have become embarrassed by a demand made by the Austrian authorities that direct telephone and telegraphic communication be accorded the Austrian peace delegation during the negotiations, just as it is now accorded the Germans.

The embarrassment arises from the fact that the German delegates are using the only wires available and it is not considered probable that they will agree to give up any of their facilities to their former Austrian allies.

Depreciation of Mark.
Bern, May 12.—The German mark, which had recovered here to 47 francs per hundred, fell on publication of the peace treaty terms to 37. All shades of bonds connected with Germany enterprises dropped considerably in price.

$1,000 FOR MAYOR.

Port Arthur, Ont., May 12.—The ratepayers of Port Arthur on Saturday carried by-law to pay the Mayor a salary not exceeding $1,000 a year and to institute the two platoon system in the fire department.

BIG NEW BRITISH DIRIGIBLE TO TRY ATLANTIC FLIGHT

New York, May 10.—The R-32, one of the new British dirigibles, is to make a trans-Atlantic flight within the next three weeks. It was announced here to-day at a luncheon in honor of Brigadier-General Charlton, British air attaché. He was the guest of the Pan-American Aeronautic Convention.

DISCONTENT AMONG LENINE'S SOLDIERS IS ON INCREASE

Helsingfors, May 11.—Via London, May 12.—According to Russian newspapers received here, discontent in the Bolshevik army is increasing. Five regiments on the Ural front have mutinied and drowned a number of the Bolshevik Commissaries, including Leon Trotsky's secretary, London.

SONNINO AND HOUSE TALK OVER ADRIATIC PROBLEM TO REACH AN AGREEMENT

Paris, May 12.—Baron Sonnino, the Italian Foreign Minister, held a conference to-day with Colonel E. M. House, of the American peace delegation. The conference went over the Italian situation with a view to reaching a basis of adjustment before the arrival of the Austrian delegation.

The conference took place at a luncheon at which Colonel House was the Italian diplomat's guest.

Triumphal March in French Capital Is Set for June 6

Paris, May 11.—A triumphal march of the Allied armies through Paris will take place on June 6, according to the present understanding. The event will take place on that date even should the peace treaty not have been signed by that time.

TREATY DENOUNCED BY J. L. GARVIN

Editor of London Sunday Observer Discerns Cause of More Trouble

London, May 12.—The most influential Sunday newspaper published here, The Sunday Observer, which after the signing of the armistice denounced the blockade as promoting Bolshevism, yesterday printed a strong denunciation of the peace treaty, written by J. L. Garvin, its editor.

"These terms," said the article, "give no fundamental solution of any European problem. They revolve in the vicious circle of violence of old diplomacy. They repeat the fatal precedents which have always led back to war and made the end of one struggle the direct cause of another. There will be quarrels, conspiracies, agitation, assassinations, revolutions and collapses. The patch-work which has been stitched together will have to be picked up throughout, thread by thread. The English-speaking democracies, above all, never will mobilize and fight again for the arrangements which are proposed. If the contrary is imagined in Paris, then Paris is grievously misled."

Mr. Garvin contends that the treaty could be enforced by continuing militarism.

BODY OF EDITH CAVELL TO BE MOVED FROM BRUSSELS AND WILL REST AT NORWICH

Brussels, May 12.—(Reuter's).—The movement of the remains of Nurse Edith Cavell for interment in England will take place to-morrow. The body was exhumed here on March 17, placed in a double coffin of zinc and oak and conveyed to the Tir Nationale. The body was found clothed in a black dress under a blue cloak. A black hat also was discovered in the coffin. The body was well preserved and the features were perfectly recognizable.

It is understood the exhumation revealed that the nurse's death was instantaneous. She was struck by four bullets, two of them entering the right side and two the left, one of the latter piercing her heart.

On Tuesday the coffin will be placed on a gun carriage drawn by six black horses, which will convey it to the Gare du Nord. Military honors will be rendered at the Tir Nationale and at the station. The long route for the carriage has been arranged in order to enable the public to pay its last respects. The gun carriage will be preceded and followed by British troops, with bands. The Belgian army also will be represented.

After a funeral service to be conducted in the station hall by Rev. H. Gahan, the British chaplain who was with Nurse Cavell the night before her execution, the coffin will be entrained for Ostend, where it will be placed aboard a British warship for Dover, where the Admiralty will hand it over to a committee charged with organizing the funeral in England.

Helsingfors Message Says Allies Will Attack Petrograd

Stockholm, May 11.—Via London, May 12.—Entente forces are preparing military operations, with Helsingfors as a base, for an attack upon Petrograd, according to a Helsingfors dispatch to The Afton Tidningen.

Eight thousand troops are expected to take part in the operations, according to the dispatch, which says French cruisers are now lying in the Gulf of Finland off Helsingfors.

COUNCIL OF FOUR REFERS NOTES FROM TEUTONS ON LABOR AND WAR PRISONERS TO GROUP OF EXPERTS

MOVING MEN HOME AT GREAT SPEED

Not Many Canadian is Britain After Middle of July, Says Currie

London, May 12.—Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie, speaking to the Canadian Associated Press, expressed his confidence that not many Canadian soldiers would remain on this side after the middle of July.

"We hope to break all records this month by at least 10,000," he said. "If we get 55,000 away in May and 50,000 in June, there will not be many left here. Of course, we have always the bugbear of strikes to contend with."

"I should like to say how generally excellent the discipline among Canadian troops has remained. Since the armistice was signed our men have been a long way from home and a long time from their families. They came simply to do a job. They have done it. They also have adapted themselves to the provisions made for demobilization in a very good spirit."

LABOR CONFERENCE IS GERMAN IDEA

Teuton Delegation Asks That Allied and German Labor Men Meet

Paris, May 12.—In the note dealing with labor questions sent to Premier Clemenceau, President of the Peace Congress, by the German peace delegation, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, says that the German Government agrees with the Allied and Associated Governments that the greatest attention must be paid to these problems.

"Internal peace and human progress depend on how these questions are handled," the note says. "The demands for social justice repeatedly dwelling on these circumstances by workers of all lands only partly find endorsement in principle in this section of the Allied Governments' draft of the peace terms. These high demands have for the most part already been carried out in admittedly exemplary fashion in the German Empire."

Referring to the draft of an agreement on international labor compiled by the German Government and proposed for the League of Nations, the note says: "In order, and in the interest of every humanity, to put these principles everywhere into practice, the acceptance of the German delegation's proposal certainly is requisite. We consider it necessary that all states should join in this agreement, even if they do not belong to the League of Nations."

Conference Idea.
"In order to assure the worker, for whom these proposed improvements are destined, co-operation in shaping these principles, the German delegation considers it necessary to convolve representatives of the organizations of the labor unions of all the contracting parties to meet at Versailles, even during the peace negotiations, to deliberate and make decisions on international labor laws. It considers it would be advantageous that the proceedings be based on decisions reported at the International Trades Union Conference held at Bern on February 5 to February 9, 1918. We append a copy of these decisions, which have been adopted by the representatives of trades unions of Bohemia, Bulgaria, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Canada, Norway, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Spain and Hungary. We have been charged to do this by the unions of Germany."

ALLIED GROUP TO ARRANGE LOANS TO MEET CHINA'S NEEDS

Paris, May 12.—A new consortium for the financing of Chinese loans was organized to-day by British, French, American and Japanese bankers. A reservation was made for later participation by Belgian bankers.

Allied Leaders Decide Not to Answer German Communications at Once; Six Members of German Peace Mission Go to Berlin.

Paris, May 12.—4.05 p. m.—The Council of Four at a meeting to-day decided to refer the German notes on labor and war prisoners to experts for consideration instead of answering them at once, as it did with the first two communications from the German delegation.

Versailles, May 12.—Six members of the German peace mission left Versailles on Saturday night for Berlin. They included the labor leader, Carl Legien, head of the German treaties delegation; Privy Councillor Eberbach, representative of the Ministry of Railroads, and Schmidt, of the Foreign Office. All three men rank as Commissioners next in importance to the plenipotentiaries. They undoubtedly have been charged to carry on direct discussions of the situation with the German Government.

The first of the two notes the German delegation sent to the President of the Peace Congress asked that there be a reciprocal policy adopted as to the repatriation of prisoners and requested that the data of the transfer be placed in the hands of a commission.

In his second note, the head of the German peace delegation advanced a counter-project as to the international labor legislation.

According to the newspapers, the basis of the second note is a labor charter inspired by the Conference at Bern, and they argue that the purpose is to create among Socialists an opinion favorable to Germany by putting in direct collaboration the working classes and the present Government of that country.

Afghans Were Driven From Frontier Point By British Troops

London, May 12.—The news from Afghanistan, where Afghan troops have been attacking British positions on the Indian frontier, was scanty but satisfactory over the week-end. British troops drove the Afghans from Ashranisake on Friday, while aeroplanes crossed the frontier and bombed the enemy positions at Loidatta with good results.

OLYMPIC ON WAY WITH OVER 5,500

Great Troopship Sailed From Southampton Without Aid of Tugs

London, May 12.—The Steamship Olympic sailed from Southampton on Saturday evening with nearly 5,500 Canadian soldiers on board. The circumstances combined to give her quite a dramatic departure, for in addition to the civic farewell by the Lord Mayor and a great crowd of cheering people, the huge steamship had to clear without the aid of tugs owing to a strike of their crews, which had led to the expectation that the liner might not sail. The captain declared that no question of tugs would prevent him sailing, and the Olympic cleared under her own steam and started on her voyage amid a scene of the greatest enthusiasm.

Gen. Bursall on Board.
Major-General Bursall, commander of the Second Division, arrived early and was kept busy bidding everyone a cheerful goodbye.

Brigadier-General Tremblay left in command of the troops on the ship. Among them is the famous 22nd French-Canadian Battalion, the 24th, 25th, 26th and 29th Battalions, the Fifth Engineers, the Fifth Field Ambulance and other drafts.

The Scandinavian sailed on Sunday from Liverpool for Quebec with twenty-nine officers from London, ten wounded N. C. O.'s and 366 other ranks, and 416 wives, 150 children and forty-two repatriated officers from Bramshott.

Olympic's Party.
Ottawa, May 12.—The Olympic carries 227 officers, 5,290 other ranks and eleven dependents. She will dock at Halifax about May 15.

TORONTO COMMISSION.
Toronto, May 12.—The Housing Commission of this city has recalled its resignation and states that it is now ready to act.

SAYS THE PROVINCE HAS GREAT FUTURE

Sir James Ball, Now on Coast, Speaks of Magnificent Resources

Vancouver, May 12.—"I am a great lover of Canada and a great believer in its future," said Sir James Ball, Timber Controller for Great Britain, on Sunday night shortly after his arrival in this city from the east. Although he had been in Eastern Canada before, this is his first visit to British Columbia.

"What strikes one," he said, "is the magnificent resources of British Columbia, its wealth of timber and minerals. The possibilities of developing these should be great owing to the opportunities afforded by the war in upsetting the normal markets of the world. The war has given Canada great opportunities which the country should grasp, not only in the British markets, but in the other markets of the world."

The interference caused by the war in the producing centres of Europe, in the Baltic region and in Austria-Hungary should be an opportunity not only for Western Canada, but for the east, said Sir James. In speaking of the future that awaits Canada, he referred to the possibilities for increased population, the development of the country's natural resources and the advantages that the country has through its sources of cheap power.

Proper Methods.
"It seems to me only a question of time," he said, "when Canada will take her place as a producer of a large part of the world's supplies, but it will depend upon the methods adopted."

White on the Journey to the Coast.
Sir James noticed the many small shingle mills springing up through the country, and also the large amount of waste and damage caused by forest fires. He was glad to learn, however, of the steps being taken to prevent this needless waste of timber, which represents so much capital to the province.

Sir James Ball is out here in connection with the large timber orders placed by the British Government both in the east and the west.

Socialist Meeting Planned in Montreal Was Not Permitted

Montreal, May 12.—A Socialist meeting called here for Saturday afternoon never started, the police taking a hand and forbidding the meeting because there had been no permit granted. No trouble occurred, though some of those who had gathered were wrathful.

Austrian Delegation Is Due to Arrive in Paris Wednesday

Vienna, May 12.—The Austrian peace delegation will leave Vienna at 5.30 o'clock to-day on a special train. The delegation is due to arrive at Paris on Wednesday.

GREY SAYS LEAGUE WILL BE SUCCESS

Former British Foreign Secretary Has Confidence in Amended Scheme.

London, May 12.—Viscount Grey, of Falloden, former Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, says in an interview that he is delighted with the amended covenant of the League of Nations, having feared "that much less might be accomplished at the Conference." Viscount Grey considers the key to the whole organization is the annual meeting of the nine Premiers or Foreign Secretaries represented on the Council. "So long as that meeting is regularly held and wisely inspired," he says, "no long may we confidently hope the peace of the world will be secured."

He believes that armaments will diminish as the League becomes strong and vital and produces a sense of security, and that eventually those who now fear it does not go far enough and those thinking that it goes too far, will both be satisfied.

Earl Grey has the greatest confidence in Sir Eric Drummond, the first Secretary-General of the League.

FORMER RUSSIAN DOWAGER EMPRESS NOW IN ENGLAND

London, May 12.—Ex-Dowager-Empress Marie of Russia and her daughter, Ex-Grand Duchess Xenia, are in England, having arrived on board a British warship on Friday. They were met in this city by King George and Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra.

KINNEL COURT-MARTIAL

Liverpool, May 12.—(Reuters)—At the Kinnel court-martial here on Saturday Pte. J. Gardner and Pte. Charles Jervis, both of the Canadian 13th Reserve Battalion, Pte. F. Gauthier, of the 13th Reserve Battalion, Pte. David R. Supple, of the Railway Troops, and Sapper Joseph Wieth, of the Canadian Engineers, were all acquitted of joining in mutiny with the alternative charge of failing to use their utmost endeavors to suppress it.

TREATY READ TO W. HOHENZOLLERN

Terms As They Appeared in Dutch Papers Translated For Him.

Amerongen, May 11, via London, May 12.—An official abstract of the preliminary peace treaty terms published in the Dutch newspapers, which was translated and read to the former German Kaiser to-day, has aroused considerable excitement among the members of the Hohenzollern party. An intention to do in connection with bringing Wilhelm Hohenzollern to trial had reached the German officials earlier in the week. They communicated the information to the former Kaiser, who displayed signs of marked emotion, but decided to await the appearance of a fuller official report before making the news known to her husband.

A special messenger motored to Arrheim Thursday to procure a copy of the local newspapers. Meanwhile the former Kaiser continued his usual occupation of sawing logs but apparently he is suffering from over-excitement.

How the former Kaiser took the news, the Associated Press correspondent here was unable to ascertain, as everyone in the castle is sworn to secrecy regarding happenings. Rumors were circulated in the village that he attempted to commit suicide by hanging, but these are considered canards since his attendants are quite calm.

SIR E. KEMP TO STAY IN OTTAWA

Expectation is Overseas Minister Will Not Return to London

Ottawa, May 12.—Sir Edward Kemp, Overseas Minister, returned to Ottawa late Saturday night. It is understood that with the war over and demobilization so well advanced, he will not return to London. The abolition of the Overseas Ministry is now only a matter of time, but will await the return of the Prime Minister. Sir Edward states he will seize an early opportunity to reply in the House to allegations regarding Argyl House. The Minister was accompanied on his return by Major Ross MacDonald, M.C., assistant secretary.

HIGHER PAY SCALE IN BRITISH NAVY

Recommendations of Special Committee Have Been Approved by Government

London, May 12.—(Reuters)—The Government has approved the decision of the Admiralty, arising from the report of the Committee on Pay for the Navy. Marines will be paid in the future at naval instead of military rates. The total annual cost of the new rates initially will be £4,447,000, and eventually £6,148,000.

An able seaman of six years' service can now obtain a weekly wage of 31 to 53 shillings, the latter with allowances, and including the value of food; and if married with two children, eighty shillings, including separation allowances. The petty officer's pay ranges from 45 to 53 shillings, according to service, and if married with two children, 97 to 107 shillings, with allowances. A chief petty officer's pay may reach 128 shillings.

The new scale is retroactive to February 1, 1918.

ADVANCES MADE BY MURMANSK FORCES

One Allied Column Gets Within 150 Miles of Lake Onega.

Archangel, May 11.—A column of the Murmansk forces operating west of the railroad has cleared the villages along Lake Onega, and is now on the way to another column, operating eastward, advanced down the road from Petrozsk yesterday morning, and is now only 150 miles from Povinsk, at the headwaters of Lake Onega.

Meanwhile the Bolsheviks have withdrawn on the railway to a point seventeen versts south of Meselskaya, while the United States railway troops have repaired the line as far as Meselskaya.

SHIPS CARRYING CANADIANS HOMEWARD

London, May 12.—One thousand Canadian officers of the Royal Air Force have sailed on the steamship Canadian for Canada.

The steamer C. Celtic is on the way to Canada with 86 officers and 2,500 men from Kinnel and 28 officers and nurses from London.

The Orduna is on the way to Canada with 17 officers and 900 men from Kinnel and nine officers and 26 nurses from London.

The Scotian is on the way from Liverpool to Halifax with 32 officers, two nursing sisters and 1,650 other ranks, including 42 officers and 1,040 men from Bramshott, mostly First Division service corps.

J. GERVAIS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Prince Albert Jury Convicts Leader of Steep Creek Bandits

Prince Albert, Sask., May 12.—Dr. Joseph Gervais on Saturday evening was found guilty of the murder of James McKay at Steep Creek on November 15 last. Chief Justice Brown, who presided at the trial, told the jury that he entirely agreed with the verdict and remanded the prisoner for sentence.

The verdict of guilty against Gervais marks the first decisive step in the charges against the trio of men familiarly known as the Steep Creek bandits. Victor Carmel and Jean Baptiste St. Germain are to be tried next week for the same crime. Carmel and St. Germain told detailed stories of the brutal shooting of James McKay, but reiterated that they were entirely under occult influence which they said the doctor was able to wield over them. They said that when he advised them to get into an underground abode on the bank of the river he armed them and continually counselled them to shoot anyone who came near. Otherwise their lives would be in danger, as they would be court-martialed for evading the Military Service Act.

Superior Education

Both the Crown prosecutor and Chief Justice Brown in their addresses to the jury discredited the ability of Gervais to exercise any hypnotic influence over his companions, but held that Carmel and St. Germain were anxious to escape military service, and when Gervais thought out the plan of the day they were willing actors in the tragedy that was commenced at that time and ended in the murder of McKay. It was held that Gervais's hold over these boys was that he had more education and simply saw an opportunity to have them work for him as profitable servants.

There was no evidence for the defence, the feature of which was a brilliant address to the jury by A. McLean Matheson, a young lawyer of Prince Albert, who had been appointed by the Crown to defend the accused, who was without counsel. Mr. Matheson's address was one of the finest pieces of legal exposition ever heard in a court here, and it was referred to several times by the Chief Justice.

Did Not Speak

Gervais received the sentence unmoved. He never spoke throughout the trial, and when Mr. Matheson endeavored to consult him when the Crown had finished its case, to ascertain if he wished to go into the witness stand in his own behalf, he simply stared in a dazed fashion at the lawyer and made no answer.

The case attracted a great deal of attention, and one of the striking exhibits was a regular arsenal of firearms of all descriptions with which Gervais had supplied the inmates of the dugout.

The majority of these weapons were said to have been stolen from the house of Adolphe Lajoie, who was found burned to death last June and whom a coroner's jury said was murdered by some one of the "Steep Creek bandits," presumably Gervais. Gervais is said to have a brother in Montreal who is a lawyer.

TO RETURN £500.

London, May 12.—A jury here on Saturday ordered Alexis M. de Beck, whose operations in Canadian real estate and in newspaper propositions here earned him notoriety, to return £500 deposited in connection with a purchase of land.

The defendant protested to the court against matters which happened long ago being brought up against him.

How Dominion Rubber System Belting Service Helps Belt Users

For more than fifty years we have specialized in the making of belting and the solving of problems in transmitting power and conveying materials economically.

We maintain a staff of belting experts for the sole purpose of helping Canadian Manufacturers to "speed up" production by cutting belting costs and eliminating power wastage.

These experts will, without charge, analyze your transmission and conveying equipment in its entirety and will recommend changes only where they are necessary to increase the efficiency of that equipment.

You are under no obligation to us in availing yourself of this service—the only return that we request is that you purchase Dominion Rubber System Belting when you have been convinced that the changes recommended by our engineer will be beneficial.

This special service is available through any of our branches.

Phone, wire or write the one nearest to you and let us prove to you that the kind of service we have given to Canada's largest industries and the kind we want to give to you, means more than just selling better belts.

AMERICAN LEGION STATES ITS STAND

Wants U. S. Congress to Take Action Against I.W.W.;
Other Requests

St. Louis, May 12.—The American Legion at the final session of its three-day national caucus here Saturday night, finally declared its stand on Americanism by demanding that congress take immediate drastic action concerning the I. W. W., International Socialists, aliens who evaded military service and the action of the War Department in granting honorable discharges to conscientious objectors convicted by court martial of violating the articles of war.

organization was repeatedly thrown into a wild riot of cheering by denunciations of military service evaders and radical organizations voiced by delegates from all parts of the country.

The greatest demonstration came when Major Richard Foster, of Kansas City, a member of the general court which convicted 135 conscientious objectors at Camp Funston, Kansas, of violation of the articles of war denounced the War Department and "the men responsible" for pardoning these men and granting them honorable discharges with full back pay.

The resolutions demanded that Congress deport all aliens who surrendered their first papers to evade military service, all aliens now interned or pardoned, all other men who evaded and condemn the I. W. W. and Socialists for their efforts in behalf of the objectors, and ask immediate investigation of the action of the War Department in pardoning the conscientious objectors.

SAYS CRITICISM OF CURRIE UNJUSTIFIED

His and Turner's Choice of Staff Officers Proper, Says
London Globe

London, May 12.—The Globe, speaking of certain newspaper criticisms in Canada of Lieut.-General Currie and Lieut.-General Turner for their selection of Staff officers, says: "We are pleased to be able to give from our own knowledge a flat denial to these suggestions. It is easy for parties sitting in Canada to voice uncalculated complaints against Canadians who have been doing such splendid service in France, but complaints to cut any ice at all here, should at least be like stories that are founded on facts."

CURRIE'S OPINION OF PEACE TERMS

Canadian Leader Says They Appear to Him to Be Satisfactory

SHOW COMPLETENESS
OF ALLIES VICTORY

London, May 12.—Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie, interviewed by the Canadian Press, said yesterday that the peace terms struck him as being satisfactory. His opinion is more interesting in view of the fact that when asked a few days ago by London newspapers whether Canada was satisfied with the result of the war, he replied: "I can answer better when the peace terms are known. I am one who has no time for pitying the Germans."

However, yesterday General Currie remarked that the very fact that such terms had been forwarded by the Allies showed the utter completeness of their victory, and that they were able to make sure such a war could never happen again. Germany obviously would have to pay to the limit of her ability.

"I think the military conditions are fair," Gen. Currie continued, "and as just as anybody could have expected. It may be opportune for the Allies to give way to little in certain particulars if reasonable representations are made for this to be done."

LICHNOWSKY SAYS TERMS TOO HARD

Ex-Ambassador of Germany to Britain Gives His Idea of Treaty

Paris, May 12.—Prince Lichnowsky, former German Ambassador to Britain, commenting on the peace terms to a correspondent of The Times, said: "Such a peace would be equivalent to the annihilation of Germany. It will be acceptable only with serious modifications. I suppose it is meant as a basis for negotiations."

"After Napoleon, Europe did not hold the French people responsible. This peace is a peace of violence. It appears to me to have been dictated under the influence of Foch."

Mathias Erbsberger, who was head of the German Armistice Commission, said to the same correspondent: "All bad propositions made to us are unacceptable and unrealistic."

LIQUOR REFERENDUM

Winnipeg, May 12.—Sir Thomas White, in a message to the Manitoba Legislative Council, has contradicted a statement by R. F. Ferguson, that the Dominion Government had abandoned the idea of a referendum on prohibition. "No assurance has been given to any interests concerning any Dominion legislation," he said.

"I AT LAST FOUND THE MEDICINE I NEEDED SO LONG"

Mrs. Hodges Feels Like Different Woman Since Taking Tanlac

"I enjoy all my meals now and can't sit down to the table without feeling thankful that Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. E. Hodges, who lives at 701 Hastings Street, East Vancouver, while in the Owl Drug Store the other day.

"I had been in wretched health for several months," she continued. "My stomach was in such bad condition until I got to where I could only eat the lightest kind of food and often one meal a day at that. I had no appetite at all, just the smell of things cooking would nauseate me, and what little I did eat would sour almost immediately and give me trouble. The gas from it would blow me up and the pains in or about my stomach were almost unbearable at times. When this sour gas would work up into my chest and around my heart it would almost smother me, and I would have indigestion for hours afterwards. I had headaches and backaches most always, and my nerves were so shattered even the rattling of a passing vehicle would upset me. I had lost all my energy, and didn't feel like doing a thing around the house, and when I'd lie down at night I'd just roll about and dream, then get up in the morning hardly able to drag around. I was all run down and losing weight every day and every medicine I had tried failed to do me any good; so I didn't know what to do for the best."

"I then decided to try Tanlac and by the time I had finished my first bottle I was convinced that I had at last found the medicine I had needed so long. I just kept on taking it and improving until I had taken six bottles, and now I am glad to see meal time come, for I can eat almost anything I want and enjoy it without it giving me a bit of trouble. I now feel like an altogether different woman, for such things as headache, backache and indigestion I never have any more. My nerves are strong and steady, for no matter how much noise is made around me it doesn't worry me, and I never have those nervous spells that used to help to keep me awake at night, and now when I lie down I sleep soundly. Since Tanlac has done what it has for me, I'd just like to tell everybody about it, for it has not only made me a well woman, but I have gained seven pounds in weight."

BELGIAN SOCIALISTS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Patriotic Group Tells King
Albert of Dissatisfaction
With Treaty

Brussels, May 11.—Via London, May 12.—A demonstration organized by a number of patriotic Socialists has sent an address to King Albert expressing the Belgian people's disappointment to find the country had been gagged and mutilated and is not obtaining the guaranteed nor the reparation promised by the Allies.

The address complains that the indemnities provided are inadequate and asks the King to "save Belgium from the ruin which threatens her."

DANES FORESEE RACIAL CONFLICT

Predict Trouble With Germans
in Southern Schleswig Following Plebiscite

Copenhagen, May 11.—Via London, May 12.—The clause in the peace treaty with Germany providing for a plebiscite in Southern Schleswig is causing great excitement in Denmark. Dissatisfaction is reflected in the newspapers, which declare the population of the districts is composed of Germans, whom Denmark does not desire, as their presence within the country would lead to a future racial conflict.

Silesia.
London, May 12.—The Chief President and Central Council of Silesia, according to a wireless message, have issued a proclamation renouncing the peace treaty and declaring that the transference of the greater part of Upper Silesia can not produce a lasting peace, but "only a peace of desperation for Silesia."

CANADIAN ARMEN DINED IN LONDON

London, May 12.—Canadian armmen who served both on the Italian and Western fronts dined together by invitation of Harry Hungerford, of Belleville, to celebrate their meeting in the air over London during Saturday's procession. Every guest signed his neighbor's menu card with the number of enemy machines he is officially credited with destroying, the total reaching forty-eight, although armmen present numbered less than thirty.

asking for an appointment and upon response Winston Buckworth, Gordon Smith, and Edward McLean will leave for the capital.

A consultation has been held with Principal Willis, who has promised them his support and reminded the boys that the registrar or the university is taking the matter up with the authorities and that it is quite possible they will approve of the boys of the technical division being admitted to the matriculation at the end of a four year course in the technical school. The boys state, however, that King Edward School has no place for additional equipment necessary for the fourth year's work and there is no assurance that the university will take them in, therefore they state that they are at a loss to know what to do next year and wish to have an understanding in the matter.

A government technical school would seem to meet all the requirements. Upon entrance from public school the students could emerge from the high school as professionals. Principal Willis explained to the boys that the Provincial Government has agreed to give a considerable amount towards the building of a technical high school and that the Dominion Government is now considering the passing of a bill appropriating $15,000,000 for educational purposes.

Another point brought out by the students is that at present they are unable to take a mechanical or electrical engineering course and complete it in British Columbia.

HOW ABOUT A BY-LAW?

Although in 1914 there appeared to be every reason to believe an agreement would be reached in connection with Johnson Street bridge, the withdrawal of at least two of the parties interested presented a difficulty which became a deadlock when war broke out. Since then the whole controversy has been revived from time to time in varied forms in the hope that some solution could be found that would meet the wishes of everybody concerned.

A few weeks ago the suggestion of a joint terminal on the Songhees Reserve, each company's system entering it over common usage tracks, appeared to find general favor except with the C. P. R. This proposal recommended that Johnson Street be an elevated viaduct—permitting the railway lines to run underneath—for pedestrian and street car traffic only. The Vice-President of the C.P.R. however, discouraged hope of a solution by the adoption of this method and the company's subsequent refusal to remove its terminals to the reserve—a very natural stand for it to take—again brought the matter to a standstill.

In a final endeavor to find a way out of the impasse a further plan, embodying many of the features contained in previous proposals, was submitted by the city and it is this latest suggestion which has apparently won the approval of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. City officials and Premier Oliver, however, are advised that the company sees a value to its system of not more than $60,000 in the proposed structure, but nevertheless agrees to contribute $100,000. This sum, together with a grant of $200,000 voted by the Legislature, leaves something like $300,000 to be raised by the city, with possible aid from other sources.

There now remains but one more door to a settlement of this whole question, and that is the submission by the city of a by-law for the sanction of the people. Whether the amount should be $300,000 may be determined by still further negotiation. Moreover, we are of the opinion that the interests of the Dominion Government and the Canadian National Railways on the former reserve should be worth protection by the Federal exchequer up to about $75,000 at least; and could not the B. C. Electric Railway Company be induced to assist in view of the benefit to its system that would follow the construction of the bridge?

TOOK A DIFFERENT COURSE

During the 1918 session of the British Columbia Legislature a resolution recommending the abolition of Grand Juries found almost unanimous support. Apparently the Dominion Government has not seen fit to alter the law, and Grand Juries will continue to have their being at the Spring and Fall assizes.

If the customary "out-of-court" functions of this honorable body have been more or less lightly dubbed as a "joy-ride" in the past, the presentation made by the Victoria Grand Jury to Chief Justice Hunter on Friday afternoon was not only a useful exception, but a pattern that might be followed with considerable profit by other Grand Juries in British Columbia. Unlike other bodies, these temporary officials of the Crown may give rein to joint opinions on matters of public concern with less reserve than the single individual, who, in the nature of things, often is obliged to think of consequences before he passes criticism. Recommendations in respect of the city's milk supply, denunciation of profiteering in food, and suggestions for the betterment of the Provincial mental hospital, are matters of importance, and will doubtless beget official recognition. In the latter case, however, plans for the former jail's new function obviously are not yet complete.

THEIR "WEEK OF MOURNING"

The German Government has decreed a "week of mourning" as an expression of "sorrow and depression" over the peace terms. The real object of the decree evidently is to make the German people realize the full significance of the conditions Germany is called upon to meet. The big centres are reported to have surrendered themselves to abnormal frivolity and hectic excitement, a psychological condition which, while not unusual in the circumstances, presents all the elements of combustion, and, therefore, is decidedly dangerous to the Government.

It will be interesting to contemplate the way in which the German people take the Government's decree. They have not had much practice in organized national mourning. All their demonstrations have been over official claims of victories and the terrible atrocities committed by their forces on land and sea. We wonder how the populace which acclaimed the "glorious days" of the outbreak of the war with unexampled enthusiasm, which celebrated the massacre of innocents on the Lusitania, which deliriously applauded the sinking of hospital ships and the bombing of defenceless towns, which chanted the "Hymn of Hate" from the Rhine to the Oder, will respond to the official decree for a week of mourning.

If Germany had been less systematically brutalized by Prussian militarism during the last fifty years her Government would not now be trying to interrupt a saturnalia of licentiousness by decreeing a week of mourning because she must pay the price of her fearful misdeeds. She would be repenting in sackcloth and ashes her record of the last five years; she would be mourning the loss of her good name, for the millions who have suffered and died through her actions, and she would be sternly punishing the authors of the war and the innumerable infamies which marked her conduct of it. If Germany can mourn only because she must face the reckoning, because she has failed to plant her foot upon the corpse of civilization, it is quite evident she is not essentially altered under Ebert and Scheidemann from the Germany under the Hohenzollerns and the Great General Staff.

WHAT ARE THEY?

We confess to being greatly puzzled over the status of the three representatives of Irish-American societies who have just arrived in Ireland to assist in the promotion of the claims of the Sinn Féin "republic" and who will try to have the subject taken up by the Peace Conference at Paris.

Just what are they, anyway? If they were not born American citizens they have taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, which, as is generally known, is very specific in its repudiation of affiliations with the citizenship of any other country. This, we would imagine, would determine their nationality if birth did not do it. Certainly, a former Governor of Illinois would have to be a citizen of the United States.

The laws of the United States recognize no such thing as Irish-Americanism. Germany tried to create a German-American species by adopting a secret law which provided that Germans who took the oath of allegiance to the United States retained their German citizenship and remained dutiful subjects of the Kaiser. But the Washington Government soon disposed of that handy arrangement by confronting the individuals affected with the choice of abiding by their oaths in the United States or going to jail as traitors. There are no reservations covering hyphenates in that oath, and this, of course, applies as much to people of Irish birth who swear it as to the people born in any other country.

Therefore, how comes it that Messrs. Dunn & Company consider themselves eligible to plead the claims of another country before the Paris Conference, or to take any part in the domestic affairs of Ireland, let alone the domestic affairs of the United Kingdom? If Ireland were an actual, instead of a mock, republic, their status would be the same, unless they repudiated their American citizenship and took a new oath of allegiance in Dublin. Perhaps they are merely acting in accordance with the blanket right of anybody to make a busby of himself as long as he is allowed to do so. Certainly, as their case now stands, they have no legal right to participate in the Irish situation.

WHAT HURTS MOST.

A report from Holland says the Dutch Government will surrender William Hohenzollern to the Allies. This is not precisely what the Treaty of Versailles calls for. It requires the surrender of the former Kaiser by Germany to an international tribunal which will try him for a "supreme offence against international morality," Germany thus being required to extradite her late ruler from Holland.

This with the surrender for trial under military law of the authors of the outrages perpetrated in Germany's cause is one of the provisions which the Ebert-Scheidemann Government will try to dodge. That Government owes its power largely to the influences exercised by the former regime. Its leaders during the war were notoriously the tools of the militarists and were implicated up to the neck in the German war policy.

If they thought they could effect the restoration of the old crowd they would do it to-morrow. That is why they have not ventured even a whisper of reproach concerning the Hohenzollerns or their satellites and why, in fact, the only people who have been dealt with rigorously by them are Liebknecht, Rosa Luxemburg, William Dittmann, Herr Haase, Ledebour and others who sincerely opposed the Prussian war policy at the height of its fortunes. And that more than anything else is the reason why the German Government thinks the peace terms "contain demands which no nation can endure."

THE WOMEN'S CAMPAIGN.

Any carefully formulated campaign directed towards reducing the cost of living will find warm approval in every part of Canada. The women of Victoria and Vancouver who have been in close touch with the Attorney-General are to be commended for their energy and enterprise. A good start has already been made towards provincial organization and once British Columbia has succeeded in marshalling her feminine forces in this most important crusade very little difficulty should be experienced in making the movement a national one.

It will have to be realized, of course, that as far as the Province is concerned constitutional limitations must very largely determine the extent of its co-operation in an active sense. That the Government of British Columbia is in sympathy with any movement that will tend to lighten the load of the masses need not be mentioned. But it is obvious that concerted energy will have to be trained on the authorities at Ottawa, and the only means of doing this effectively is to create a national sentiment that for once will find the east in common cause with the west. When this is an accomplished fact a material advance will have been made and the hold upon the national ladder possessed by the few will have been shaken to good account.

STRIKE VOTE IN CITY OF WINNIPEG

Workmen Reported Overwhelmingly in Favor of General Tie-Up

Winnipeg, May 12.—It is estimated in labor circles that up to last night approximately 17,000 votes were cast in connection with the proposed general strike with the building and metal trades. It was stated that not more than 300 of the number had voted against a strike. Secretary Robinson, further admitting that the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, declined to discuss the matter in detail. He added that so far as he was aware, not a single union had yet voted against the proposed general strike.

The definite details of the voting will not be known until after the special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council to be held on Tuesday night. H. B. Russell, secretary-treasurer of the machinists for Canada, in reply to an inquiry, stated that "the One Big Union vote was as solid as the other. The result would not be given out from Winnipeg, as the results were being forwarded to the headquarters of organization at Vancouver and would be handled at that point."

JAFJE, A. B. RIAN SOVIET LEADER, IS NOW UNDER ARREST

Berlin, May 11.—Via London, May 12.—A guest who was arrested at the Ulm Hotel here to-day while trying to negotiate 1,000-mark bills bearing the characteristics of the money which was temporarily put out of circulation in Bavaria because of the Soviet regime, was found to be Dr. Jaffe, the Bavarian Soviet Minister of Finance, recently displaced with other Ministers by the Hoffmann Government. A search of Dr. Jaffe's trunk revealed 470,000 marks in 1,000-mark notes. He was taken to Munich for trial.

INFLUENZA KILLS ONTARIO INDIANS

Port Arthur, Ont., May 12.—The inroads of influenza among the Indian population of this district are revealed in a statement by Indian Agent Brown, showing a recent decrease of 200 in a former total population of 1,600. While the epidemic was raging the members of several families were all taken sick and starved to death, nobody being available to summon aid.

Many of the women and children have lost their supporters and every band has a number of aged widows and cripples. These are so scattered that it is difficult to get aid to them when they are most in need.

SPANIARDS TAKE OVER GERMAN CRAFT INTERNED IN PORTS

Madrid, May 12.—With a view to preventing possible acts of sabotage, the marine authorities have taken charge of the German ships interned in Spanish ports. Six of these ships already have been provided with French crews and are flying the Inter-Allied flag.

PAPER WORKERS IN STATES ON STRIKE

Glen Falls, N. Y., May 12.—Refusing an offer made by the International Paper Company of approximately a ten per cent. increase in wages and a new working agreement which was to go into effect yesterday, 5,000 members of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers employed in the company's mills throughout this country struck between midnight and 3.30 o'clock Sunday morning.

INDUSTRIAL POSITION OF BRITISH WOMEN

London, May 12.—(Reuters).—The War Cabinet Committee dealing with the industrial position of women recommends the adoption of equal pay for equal work, in the sense that pay should be proportionate to efficient output. Where it is contended that the woman employed produces less than a man on the same work, proof should lie with the employer.

The committee recommends the introduction of children's allowances, if necessary to attract men to occupations where women are paid equally.

BIG MARKET FOR CANADIAN PRODUCE

Europe Needs Food From Farms of Dominions, Says H. B. Thomson

London, May 12.—Henry B. Thomson, who succeeded the late W. J. Hanna as Food Controller of Canada, quickly got to work on his arrival in London as advisor to the Canadian Trade Mission. By an effective statement made by him in Canada's great effort in supplying food to the Allies, the Dominion gets publicity. He also points to the enlarged markets here for Canadian produce.

"When our farmers realize," he said, "the great opportunity they have in the European markets they will do better with bacon, butter, eggs and poultry. These can easily be produced in Canada, but the farmers have not yet grasped the idea that a great export door is open to them."

Riot at Canadian Camp in England But Order Restored

London, May 12.—The reported disturbance on Friday night last in the Canadian camp at Seaford turned out to be not so serious as those at Kinmel Camp, and so far as is known, no grave injury or loss of life occurred, but there was considerable damage.

The affair arose over minor camp grievances, chiefly in connection with the prohibition of week-end travel by a rule enforced eighteen months ago in response to the Government's urgent request to restrict railway traffic.

Apparently there was irritation also over other unimportant regulations which culminated in regrettable disorders, the principal phase of which was an attack on the canteens and seizure of beer. The non-commissioned officers' mess was wrecked but order was soon restored.

Headquarters officers are now visiting the camp and an inquiry is being made.

SOCIALISTS SAY TREATY BAD ONE

Socialists of Paris and Department of Seine Condemn the Pact

Paris, May 12.—The General Assembly of Socialists of Paris and the Department of the Seine yesterday adopted a resolution protesting against the peace treaty, in which it says: "Justice is violated in nearly every phrase." One of the speakers demanded that the Socialist Deputies refuse to approve the treaty. March Cuchin, a Socialist Deputy, said that he had refused to subscribe to the terms for his party and would make his action in the Chamber of Deputies conform to the decisions of the party. He denied the right of the German delegates at Versailles to negotiate in the name of new Germany.

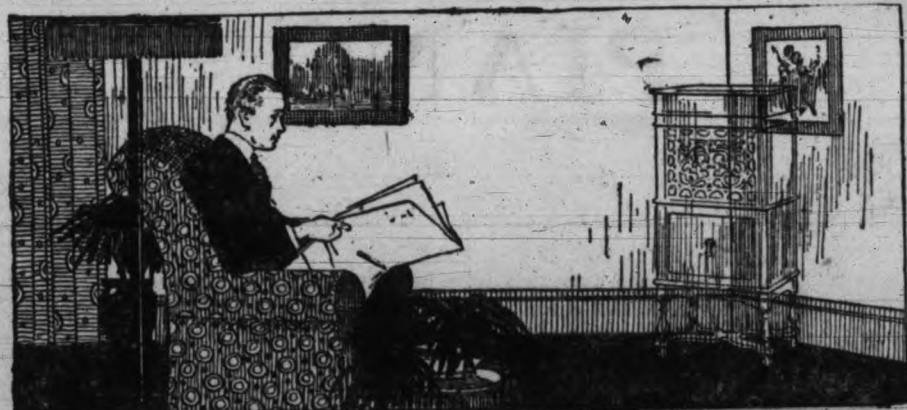

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, May 12, 1894.

Alderman Dwyer has a notice of motion on the City Hall bulletin board that he will introduce a by-law regulating the waterworks, making rules for the government of employees, and to enforce the payment of water rates by shutting off the water or by suing at law.

Work on the new morgue is nearing completion. The building will be handed over to the city in a few days.

It is more than probable that the fire horses will not be used on the sprinkler, despite the passage of a resolution at the Council to that effect.

That Empty Corner

The Place for Your NEW EDISON

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and Bunty's Ribbon

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Once upon a time Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, who was hidden in a hollow stump until she was found, said to Uncle Wiggly:

"Will you come with me for a walk in the woods to-day?"

"Why, yes, Baby Bunty, I think I will," answered Mr. Longears. "But I am a bit stiff, and my rheumatism hurts a little, so please don't ask me to chase you or do anything exciting like that."

"I won't," promised Baby Bunty, but as she tied her red sky-blue pink hair ribbon around her neck, the little rabbit girl smiled in a queer way.

"No," she said to herself, as Uncle Wiggly took his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch down off the fence post, "I won't make him chase me, but I'll keep him from going to sleep. He's a dear old rabbit gentleman, but he's getting old—and he thinks he is. I must keep him lively."

So Uncle Wiggly and Baby Bunty hopped off through the woods. Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzy stood in the doorway of the hollow stump bungalow and watched them.

"My! Baby Bunty has on her best hair ribbon to-day," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I hope nothing happens to it."

As Baby Bunty hopped along, now running ahead of Uncle Wiggly and now lagging behind to pick a pretty flower, all of a sudden her green yellow brown hair ribbon caught on a bush and the bow was untied.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! Please tie my hair ribbon!" cried Baby Bunty with a laugh.

Uncle Wiggly leaned on his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, and, with his paws, tied Baby Bunty's ribbon.

"There!" he said, as he patted down the big bow, which looked like the wings of a butterfly. "I hope your hair ribbon doesn't come untied again."

"I hope so, too," said Baby Bunty.

On and on she hopped through the woods with Uncle Wiggly. They were looking for a nice place for the little rabbit girl to play. All of a sudden, as she was peeping down in a robin's nest, to see how big the little birds were, her hair ribbon caught on a branch of a tree, and loose the bow came again.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! Will you please tie my hair ribbon!" cried Baby Bunty with a laugh.

"Dear me!" said Uncle Wiggly. "That's a very loose ribbon, Baby Bunty! I ought to have brought some glue to make the bow stay tied fast."

But he fixed it for the little rabbit girl, and on they hopped again. Pretty soon they came to a beautiful place in the woods. On the ground was a soft velvet carpet of green grass. Around it was a fringe of ferns. Overhead was a big umbrella of trees, which kept off the hot sun.

"Here is a good place for you to play, Baby Bunty," said Uncle Wiggly. "You may gather flowers, hop on the grass or even turn somersaults."

"And what are you going to do, Uncle Wiggly?" asked the little rabbit girl.

"Oh, I shall go to sleep," said the old gentleman rabbit.

Baby Bunty wrinkled up her nose in a funny little way, but she didn't say anything—just then. Uncle Wiggly found a soft stump for a seat, with a soft mossy covered tree for a back rest, and there he sat down. Pretty soon his eyes closed, his pink nose stopped twinkling, and he was asleep.

"Oh, dear!" said Baby Bunty. "This isn't any fun—to have him go to sleep! Ah, I know what I'll do!"

She played around a little, turning peepersaults and somersaults, and, all at once, she gave her hair ribbon a little pull.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly!" she cried, running up to the rabbit gentleman. "My ribbon is untied again! Please fix it for me!"

Uncle Wiggly opened his eyes and grunted.

"It seems to me your hair ribbon is

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Social Personal

Miss Alice Staden, of the B.C. University, is visiting Mrs. F. W. Butterfield for a few days.

Mrs. Ebertz, of Victoria, spent the week-end at New Westminster, visiting her sister, Mrs. Worsfold.

Miss Leslie Gallier returned home during the week-end from Vancouver, where she has been visiting Miss Bessie Macpherson for the past two weeks.

W. J. Bowser, K.C., M.P.P., left yesterday for the mainland on an extended trip through the interior. He was accompanied by M. F. Gordon, ex-Reeve of Oak Bay.

Charles Hayward, ex-Mayor of Victoria, is to-day receiving the congratulations of his many friends upon his attainment of the eighty-first anniversary of his birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie, of this city, spent the past week in New Westminster as the guests of the latter's father, Chas. Warwick.

Miss Corbould has returned to her home at New Westminster after having been the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. O. S. Schofield, wife of the Provincial Librarian, for a week.

Mrs. G. D. Ramsey (nee Lenore Lemon) will hold her post-nuptial reception on Friday afternoon from 3 till 6 p.m., and on Friday evening, at her residence, 150 Patricia Drive.

En route from England to Australia, Miss Brooks and Miss Jellicoe left on the Niagara this morning for the Antipodes. During their stay in the city they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Denny, 1433 Crescent Road.

The many friends of Mrs. Kenway will be sorry to hear that she has been lying ill all the week at her residence, Rockland Avenue. Latest reports, however, state that she is now on the way to recovery.

The Y. W. C. A. gymnasium class plan to close their winter season with a social evening on Wednesday when a musical programme will be held. Pupils of Miss Kathleen McGregor of the B. C. Academy of Music, Refreshment will be served.

George Dyke left on the afternoon's boat for Seattle en route for Portland, Oregon, where he has been called by the Ellison White Bureau to make final arrangements for the Chataqua to be held in Victoria July 25 and 26. He expects to return to the city on Friday.

Miss Gypsy Ward went over to Vancouver on Saturday morning to meet her mother, Mrs. Whiting, on her return from Montreal. During her stay in Vancouver Miss Ward is the guest of Mrs. Allison Cumming, Shaughnessy Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ferguson, of Seattle, are making an automobile tour of Vancouver Island. Mr. Ferguson has recently returned from New Jersey where he has been engaged as supervising engineer of the Rantian Government Arsenal for the past eighteen months.

The James Bay Athletic Association will hold a delightful dance at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday evening, dancing to be from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. The members are bringing to its preparation that energy and enthusiasm which have earned for the club its phenomenal success in the field of sport, and would-be patrons can be assured in advance of a good time.

C. D. Smith, former city editor of The Vancouver Daily Sun and member of The Times editorial staff, was among the passengers on the Niagara when that vessel left for Australia to-day. Mr. Smith expects to make his future home in the southern hemisphere, where his family will join him from England.

The Misses Alma and Alexa Russell and Mrs. Ross were the hostesses at a very successful "the dance" held at their home 27 Boyd Street on Saturday afternoon. The affair was held in the spacious music room which, as with the adjoining reception rooms, was beautifully decorated with spring blossoms. Over eighty guests were present, representative of the younger social set, as well as a number of out-of-town visitors. Miss Moggley furnished excellent dance music.

The hundred and thirty teachers who comprise the membership of the Victoria and District Teachers' Association are working actively to make their dance to be held at the Alexandra Club on Friday evening an enjoyable success. Dancing is to commence at nine o'clock, and is expected to be a phenomenal success. Tickets are obtainable from the teachers and the steady demand suggests that the spacious ball-room will be filled with enthusiastic gathering on the occasion of the first public social function organized by the teachers.

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. McClure, of 1205 St. Patrick Street, were the guests of the choir of St. Columba Church, Oak Bay, on the occasion of their leaving Victoria for their home in Glasgow, Scotland. During the evening the were made the recipients of a pair of silver vases as a always coming untied," he said. But he made a nice fancy bow for Baby Bunty, and then he went to sleep again, while she played about. But, pretty soon back she hopped.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly!" she cried. "What! exclaimed the old rabbit gentleman. 'Is your hair ribbon loose again? Am I never to get any sleep?'"

"It isn't my hair-ribbon this time," said Baby Bunty. "But I saw a big fox sneaking along in the bushes behind you, and I thought he might bite some sense out of your ears, so I woke you up!"

"I'm glad you did!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "And you awakened me just in time, too. Now we can run away before the fox gets us!"

And run away they did, and the old fox didn't get them.

"But I would have had a nice lot of sense out of Uncle Wiggly's ears, if Baby Bunty hadn't awakened him," said the fox, hungry like.

token of the esteem in which they were held by members of the congregation and choir, Philip Hughes, organist and choirmaster, made the presentation. The speaker of the occasion, Mr. McClure, thanked the church for the services rendered to the church by Mr. and Mrs. McClure. Mr. McClure suitably replied.

On Tuesday evening next the Women's Auxiliary to the C. W. Y. A. will hold a concert and dance in the rooms, 512 Fort Street. There will be a splendid programme of vocal, instrumental and comic numbers rendered by the following artists: Mrs. Anstey, the Misses Hunt, Sparks and Taylor, Messrs. Sparks, Guy, and the Master Mars. It is also expected that Miss Queenie Hall will dance. Following this a dainty tea will be served after which the remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing. There will be several card tables arranged for those wishing to amuse themselves in this way.

VICTORIAN ORDER TO APPEAL TO PUBLIC

On Saturday Next to Purchase Car For Hard-Worked Nurses.

For some years past the people of Canada have been slowly awakening to the need of an efficient public nursing service. The recent epidemic served to emphasize this need, and at the same time convinced many that the Victorian Order of Nurses, with its already well-established machinery and competent nursing staff, was the logical nucleus of such a service. Although sadly handicapped by lack of funds the local branch of the Order performed yeoman service at a time when competent nurses were at a premium and the doctors of the community were working day and night to cope with the scourge.

One has only to refer to the official reports of the local branch for the months of October and November—when the epidemic had reached its zenith—to realize the tremendous part played in the campaign against the deadly flu germ by the nurses of the Order. The Victoria branch has but two resident nurses, Miss McNaught and Miss Norcross, and they, with the assistance of two relief nurses from outside points, nursed 123 cases in October. This work entailed 407 visits, of which sixty-nine were to infectious (influenza) cases, and 383 were purely nursing visits. In November thirty-one cases were nursed and 336 visits paid, forty-eight of the cases being sufferers from influenza.

With such a heavy call on their services the nurses found themselves greatly handicapped by having no car to convey them quickly from case to case. Where a life is at stake valuable moments are lost if a nurse has to wait for transportation by street car or has to depend upon the good graces of a kindly car-owner. To look at the matter from another aspect, the efficiency of the nurse is bound to be impaired if she has to expend her energy in getting from place to place on foot, as is often the case when the patients live in out-of-the-way places.

In an endeavor to remedy this handicap the Victoria branch of the Order will appeal to the public on Saturday next, the proceeds of the street collection to be expended in the purchase of a car for the use of the nurses in their work. The cause being one which is distinctly a community benefit it is hoped that the public will rally loyally to the support of the nurses in their effort to enhance the efficiency of this very splendid branch of the public service.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER

Was Tendered to Publicity Commissioner McAdam at Duncan.

A complimentary dinner was tendered to W. A. McAdam, Publicity Commissioner, at Duncan on Friday night. As an expression of the esteem in which Mr. McAdam is held by the people of Duncan a purse, a wrist watch, and an illuminated address were presented to the guest of the evening. The highest praise for Mr. McAdam's work as Secretary of the Agricultural Society, of the Board of Trade and as one of the most energetic of citizens, were expressed by various speakers.

A. H. Peterson occupied the chair, and those present were: W. A. McAdam, Dr. H. T. Rutherford, J. C. Henslowe, W. Paterson, A. A. Mutter, P. J. Bishop, W. A. Willett, James

WOULD USE RHINE AS TRADE OUTLET

Switzerland Expects to Utilize Waterway to Great Commercial Advantage

Surrounded on all sides by the battle-ing hosts of four great powers, continually threatened with ruthless invasion by the destroying swarms of Germany, and imminent danger of a fate like that of Belgium, the little confederacy of Switzerland suffered probably more from Armageddon than many of the actual belligerents. But with the coming of peace and the possibility of its enforcement by a world league the little inland democracy expects to participate once more, and to a greater extent than ever before in the commerce of the world, and it is to the Rhine that Switzerland looks as an outlet for her industry, and as a portal for the raw materials which she expects to require in ever-increasing quantities.

This is virtually the outline of Switzerland's immediate past and future as described to a Times representative by Monsieur Edward Pauli, a prominent Swiss business man and representative of a large engineering company, who, with his family stopped in Victoria en route for Japan. While M.
Pauli has not visited in his home land since the outbreak of war he has been in close touch with conditions in Switzerland and, having travelled for some twenty years in the interest of Swiss concerns, he is well-qualified to speak on trade conditions and prospects.

Massed Troops on Border

Before the blight of war had actually fallen upon Europe, says M. Pauli, before Germany's threat to crush Belgium and Britain's decisive reply, Switzerland had massed 250,000 troops on the German frontier. The little nation knew well that the road of the destroyer would be either through the north or the south; that either Belgium or she must face the German legions. Having seen the martyrdom of France in 1870 she knew well what a German invasion meant. And she was prepared to attempt a hopeless stand in defence of the neutral zone, which, through centuries of history, had struggled for their freedom.

Escaped Path of War

But Germany chose Belgium, which seemed the easier way to the heart of France. Switzerland had escaped the ravages of war, and she means to avoid the effects of war. While the rest of Europe writhed in agony she could not hope to continue in her usual occupations as in the times of peace.

Switzerland is a manufacturing nation, he said. She possesses practically no natural resources from which to produce the raw materials for her factories. Thus she is dependent upon other countries for her very existence.
Coal and iron she needed from Germany. And Germany demanded food in return. The Allies, on the other hand, were careful not to allow Switzerland to be a back door for Germany's food supply. It thus became difficult either to secure the raw products of Germany, or the food of the outside world. The result was that prices soared. Switzerland's bill-of-fare was cut down, and the fires burned low in her factories. To add to her trouble the country was inundated with swarms of refugees from Central Europe, and was forced to maintain her army on the border for fear of German invasion.

Switzerland, he says, by the internationalization of the Rhine that she may use the great Rhine as an outlet to the Atlantic ocean; that she may buy ships and send them down the great inland waterway far across the seas to other continents; that she may secure an abundance of raw materials to keep her factories going full blast. She feels that her commerce will move as never before; that the disorganization of Germany will remove to a considerable degree the competition of her greatest business rival, while the internationalization of the Rhine will open her a way to the markets of the world.

Switzerland, according to M. Pauli, wants no more territory; she desires no revolutionary clean out of her present democratic form of government.
All she wants is a full opportunity to make use of her extraordinary ability as a manufacturer, and a chance to transact her business with the world handicapped with as few restrictions as possible.

Scout Training

The scout training already encourages many activities and attributes which are of value to the worker, both in carrying out his work and in commending him for promotion and better employment.

Such points as the following are taken into account by employers:
Punctuality—Some three per cent.
of the average worker's time is lost in unpunctuality, which means delay in the working and output in the factory.

Neatness in looking after and arranging clothes in the cloakroom and tools on the bench and so on.

Cleanliness results in better health and especially conduces to rapid healing of the many small wounds which fall to the lot of the worker.

Alertness and quickness of eye and hand not only makes for efficiency, but saves from accidents.

Health and endurance enable a man to do far better work than if he is easily tired. There is money value in it.

Hobbies are valuable for giving a boy something to do in his spare time when Satan would otherwise get at his idle hands.

Baths have been set up in some factories as a direct contribution to the health of the workers; but these were seldom used because they did not appreciate the value of them.

Gymnastics and physical exercises such as scouts enjoy are the best relief from work strain, both mental and physical.

The discipline of the scout patrol has a valuable effect in the workshop.
The disciplined man not only appeals to the foreman and manager, but also has the right qualities for commanding others when a vacancy occurs for a ganger.

Responsibility as possessed by our patrol leaders is to some extent a matter of education, and there is very little education in this direction among the class from which our workers are taken. And yet it is essential to the man who is going to succeed in his career.

Interest in his work is a great incentive to good workmanship. Our proficiency badges develop this interest so that it becomes a habit and is a valuable asset.

Esprit de Corps of the troop or patrol lead the way to esprit de corps of the factory or firm, which makes for the higher standard of efficiency and greater interest and happiness.

On paper it may look a great deal,
but when you come to analyze it, it really only a little different from what we are already doing in the scout movement, and a troop organized among the boys or girls in a factory would practically be doing the best work possible. This fact has already been recognized by many factory owners and employers in England, and utilized for the good of their workers.

She-if fashion makes our skirts any narrower than they are now I won't know what we'll do.
He-I do; you'll wear them.

SOLDIERS AS TEACHERS

The Minister of Education in Saskatchewan is encouraging returned soldiers to become teachers.

In order to enable them to enter upon a fairly remunerative line of work, even though it may be only for a temporary period, he announces that the Saskatchewan soldiers who wish to engage in teaching will be permitted to do so, provided they have satisfactory academic standing.

Soldiers holding at least third class diplomas or equivalent standing will, upon submitting a certificate of honorable discharge, be granted provisional certificates valid in any rural school in the Province for a year.

Furthermore, if the inspector's report on their work in the schoolroom is satisfactory these soldiers will be granted permanent teaching certificates without being required to attend the Provincial Normal School.

A Saskatchewan teacher, who holds a teacher's certificate of the first, second or third class, will upon submitting to the department his certificate of honorable discharge be granted a permanent certificate of the same class.
No registration fee will be charged in any case, and those who have already paid the fee will have it remitted.

PLAN TO DRAW HERO THROUGH STREETS ON ARRIVAL IN VICTORIA

Col. Peck, V. C., is Expected
Here on Wednesday—
Reception Details

Veterans who served with Lieut.-Col. Cyrus W. Peck, V. C., D. S. O., M. P. for Skeena, plan a cordial reception for him on arrival in Victoria. His carriage will be drawn by veterans to the Public Library, where an address will be read by Mayor Porter, and a dinner will be held on the following day at the Empress Hotel, according to plans announced today on behalf of a committee of former 16th and 30th Battalion men.

The definite date is dependent upon a message from Major-General R. G. Edwards, Lieut.-Col. Peck's old comrade in arms, and will be in Vancouver to-morrow for the official welcome in the afternoon, on the arrival of the steamer from Prince Rupert. The General will be the guest of the committee, so that the date of Col. Peck's arrival, which is timed provisionally for Wednesday afternoon here, may be precisely known.

The reception at the wharf, for which discharged men will be allowed to wear uniform, will be followed by a procession to the Public Library. On the steps there Mayor Porter will read the address of welcome. The gallant member will be drawn by veterans by way of Belleville, Government and Yates Streets to the library, in an open carriage.

On the evening following his arrival, Col. Peck will be the guest of his former comrades of the two battalions at the Empress Hotel, where a dinner will be held. By the courtesy of Col. Humble, the hotel orchestra, under Professor Turner, will render selections.

Tickets for the function may be obtained by members of the 16th and 30th Battalions, from T. A. Darke, honorary secretary, 11 Savoy Mansions; T. Birch, M.M.; P. Abrahams and C. Freearg, Comrades of Great War Veterans; A. Little, Bank of Montreal; and D. G. Holmes, next-of-kin Club rooms.

Thanks, Helpers.—Mrs. Bridges wishes to thank the Rev. Mr. Newbury, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Smith for the great help they gave her in organizing the Red Cross entertainment at the Princess Theatre on Saturday night, also all those who so kindly took part in it.

Still Examining Trails.—One more day will be required for members of a special committee of the City Council to examine a number of streets which it is proposed to lay trails this year. Under the pilotage of Alderman Sangster, an aldermanic party has been touring the city by motor recently with the expectation that the laying of a number of these trails could be delayed until after the summer in order that no extra men will have to be employed.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous

COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstring, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs. Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over."

I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their heart."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"ORIGINAL" RETURNING

CAPT. BEANLANDS, M.C.

Who is expected to arrive in Victoria on Wednesday. He was discharged from the 16th Battalion at Winnipeg, and is coming home via Prince Rupert.

KILLED WHILE FLYING

Many Victorians will share in the general regret at the news of the death of Capt. Paul Beanlands, M.C., who after four years' war service, was killed in a flying accident in England on Thursday, according to word received by his uncle, Fred B. Pemberton, this morning.

Capt. Beanlands was the son of the late Canon Beanlands, formerly of Victoria. Born in this city, he spent his boyhood days here and by his bright cheery disposition earned for himself a host of young friends who viewed with regret his departure for England with his parents nearly ten years ago. Completing his education in England, he enlisted on the outbreak of war and served one year as a subaltern in the infantry. The lure of the air then attracted him and he transferred to the Royal Air Force, serving three years in that branch of the service until 1915 when he was wounded. While serving in this branch of the service he won the Military Cross in 1916 for brilliant work on the Western front.

No particulars beyond the brief announcement of his death in a flying accident, were contained in the cable received by Mr. Pemberton, and it is not known how the accident occurred. Mrs. Beanlands, mother of the late aviator, was formerly Miss S. Pemberton, and is now residing at Wickhurst Manor, Sevenoaks, England.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN WHEREBY
INSOMNIA CAN BE SAFELY AND QUICKLY CURED

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved. Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozene equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrozene?

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozene and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly.

Ferrozene is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use. Absolutely safe as Ferrozene.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrozene. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and a tonic to the strong. The complete course is 50c. a box, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrhons Co., Kingston, Ont.

MANAGE HUSBAND BY WRITTEN RULE?

Enid Bennett's Latest Picture "Happy Though Married" at Royal.

That the management of husbands cannot be reduced to a written formula with the same accuracy as a recipe for doughnuts is the theme about which is developed a series of delightful comedy situations in "Happy Though Married," Enid Bennett's new Paramount photoplay which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre for three days only commencing tonight.

This new picture from the studios of Thomas H. Ince is a story that turns the laugh on jealous husbands and wives and with a heavy sugar coating of comedy slips over the advice to brides not to accept too seriously keep-sakes of olden days they may find in their husband's trunk.

That man is a ready victim to the green-eyed monster is brought out by the action of the story and the conclusion is that literary treatises on how to manage wives and husbands all must have been written by bachelors and old maids.

The original story is by Lois and Arthur Zellner, and was written for the screen by C. Gardner Sullivan. Enid Bennett has been surrounded by a suitable cast, especially selected by Director Fred Niblo.

Charlie Chaplin, in one of his most laughable comedies, will also be seen on the same programme.

VARIETY PRESENTS

"FOR HUSBANDS ONLY"

Mildred Harris Is Star in Attractive Film This Week.

An unusual compliment was recently paid Miss Mildred Harris, the charming star of Miss Lois Weber's latest production, "For Husbands Only," which will be produced at the Variety Theatre to-day. It was a luncheon given by eleven girl employees in one of the largest department stores in Los Angeles, Miss Harris, the guest of honor, making an even dozen.

A letter received by Miss Weber during the early part of last week from Miss Harriet Milner, who is employed in the department store, contained the information that it was the desire of a number of the girls also employed there to meet Miss Harris and they thought that "nothing would be nicer than to sit down with her at luncheon and spend a pleasant hour or so together." Miss Weber showed the letter to Miss Harris, and at her director's suggestion it was decided to accept the invitation forthwith.

The luncheon, which took place in one of the leading hotels of Los Angeles, was a dainty affair. Miss Harris delighted the girls with a recital of her various experiences while "The Price of a Good Time," in which she plays the part of an unhappy shop girl, was being produced, and each of the girls contributed to the pleasure of the occasion with an entertaining story or a recitation. Two hours were spent at the table, Miss Milner having arranged with the manager of the department store to give them double time for their luncheon hour. Miss Weber invited them all to see "For Husbands Only" as her guests, and the girls were properly shocked until Miss Weber explained that she wrote the photoplay especially for girls.

"For Husbands Only" has been pronounced by many well-known dramatic critics "the photoplay de luxe of the season—beautifully dressed, tantalizing with suspense, rich with humor and a play for the whole family." Though the title suggests a restriction it does not apply to the picture, which will be found quite wholesome enough for everyone to see.

ANITA STEWART FILM IN NATURAL SETTINGS

Miss Lois Weber Directs Production Now at Dominion Theatre.

A six-reel story of mystery and romance, made without the use of a single studio setting, will be presented at the Dominion Theatre all week, under the title of "A Midnight Romance," starring Anita Stewart in the second of her super-productions made under the management of Louis B. Mayer, the Boston film magnate.

Miss Lois Weber, who directed the production of the story which was suggested by Marion Orth, gave the picture realism in settings far beyond the possibilities of the most capable of the studios among the studio painters and carpenters. The action of the first five reels takes place in a large hotel, where Miss Stewart as Marie, a maid with soft hands and a mastery of four languages as her practical recommendations, is employed to make beds and drive a vacuum cleaner.

The story required three large hotel "suites, corridors, "shots," lobby settings, at least one "practical" elevator, a grand ballroom and a huge veranda. To give the proper realism to the action of the principals in these surroundings, and to make their work wholly convincing, Miss Weber rented the largest hotel in Los Angeles, in which to stage a greater part of the production.

To avoid running counter to the routine of the hotel it was necessary for her to work each day from midnight until morning, when the corridors and lobby were most deserted by the guests.

NORTHWEST MOTION PICTURE CONVENTION

Will Be Held in Seattle During July—Attractive Programme.

Seattle, May 12.—Seattle gave a gigantic motion picture convention and motion picture ball on July 16, 17, 18 and 19, and the ball, which will be the crowning feature of the convention, will be held on the last night of the convention.

The convention is in the hands of the allied motion picture interests of the Northwest and has the official title of "First Convention and Motion Picture Ball of Northwest Allied Motion Picture Interests."

It is expected that every motion picture exhibitor in the states of Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington will be in attendance at the convention.

Musical supply houses will demonstrate the latest instruments that apply to the presentation of pictures.

To Show New Subjects.
 Theatre equipment houses will have every conceivable invention on display that goes to help the enjoyment of the public who patronize this first amusement in the land. Specialty designed electrical apparatus will be one of the features of the convention.

Other things of an educational value to the exhibitor will be pre-views of some of the newest subjects, which will be available for booking, but not for showing before fall. A genuine for the "good of the business" convention will be held wherein exhibitor and exchange-man will meet on common ground and every phase of the business will be threshed out. One thing is, certain, and that is that after this convention there will be a thorough understanding between the exchanges and the motion picture exhibitor.

There will be entertainments for the delegates attending.

THOUGHT IT WAS A BOIL Doctor Said Abscess

Mr. Gleason R. Young, Kingscroft, N. B., under date of February 9th, writes us as follows: "About five months ago, a lump came on my jaw-bone. I thought it was a boil, and after it had been there quite a while it began to get larger. I went to a doctor and he said it was an abscess, and lanced it. He gave me a wash for it, so I went by his directions until it healed up, but it commenced coming again, and in about three weeks it broke itself. I thought it would get better, but it didn't. A neighbor advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, so I sent and got a bottle, and by the time it was all gone, the abscess had disappeared, and now it is all better."

Burdock Blood Bitters will heal and dry up sores, ulcers, and abscesses, no matter how large or of how long standing. If you have never applied it to a cut, wound, sore or ulcer, just try it and see what soothing, healing, cleansing power it possesses. It takes out the itching, stinging and burning, and promotes the growth of healthy flesh. So, too, when taken internally, by its power of eliminating all impurities from the blood and making that vital fluid rich, red and pure, it cuts off the origin and source of the foul matter that goes to make boils, pimples, sores, ulcers, abscesses and the like, and at the same time the purified and enriched blood creates healthy tissue where there was formerly, perhaps, a sore full of pus.

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for forty years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Creator of Role of Jean Valjean in "Les Miserables" Presented.

Otis Skinner, the famous American character actor, achieved one of the successes of his career when he produced "The Harvester" at the L. Theatre, New York, several years ago—a charming version of Jean Valjean's famous poem "The Vagabond." It was praised for its beauty of setting, the poetry of feeling and emotion which sang through it and the vivid portrayal of humble folk who gained their living from the earth. Now Henri Krauss, the distinguished French actor, has given prodigally of his art to the making of a screen version of the poem called "A Vagabond of France," which will be shown at the Romano to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday, in conjunction with Pearl White's latest serial, "The Lightning Raider."

It is a poem in pictures—beautiful scenes of hill, valley, meadow and stream, and always of the Open Road. The love of freedom, of nature and of constant change of scene is so deep in the heart of the wanderer that all of the dearest human ties are fickle to stay his wanderings. This simple, idyllic story has to do with the love of the buxom country girl, Tolson, for the wanderer who stops to work during the harvest, when the air is fragrant with new mown hay and there is real poetry and joy in life.

There is a poignant note in the soul-struggle of the vagabond as he finally yields to the call of the road and steals away into the night. "Goodbye, my loved ones! My destiny calls me to follow the open road—and destiny is stronger than love."

Attractive Features at Local Theatres

"LIMOUSINE LIFE" IS NOW AT COLUMBIA

Olive Thomas Appears in Comedy of Attractive Character.

Nearly a score of original gowns designed by Peggy Hamilton, of the Triangle wardrobe department, are shown in Olive Thomas's latest release, "Limousine Life," from the Red Book magazine story of the same name, written by Ida M. Evans, which will be shown at the Columbia to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. The action of the play centres around a fashionable modiste shop in Chicago, and Miss Hamilton created such stunning gowns for the display that the female patrons of Triangle will find their hearts fluttering with envy. Many valuable hints for millinery's wardrobe will be found in the masterpieces worn by the models. Among the various creations shown are bridal and bridesmaid gowns, street costumes, varying from tailored suits to velvet costumes for the Tea Dansant, and beautiful evening gowns and wraps ranging from the ingenue type to that worn by the dowager.

the exhibit is called "Model Iris," a green evening costume. It is simple but regal in lines, of apple green metallic cloth over gold lace, with a foundation of ashes-of-roses chiffon. The only trimmings are tassels of pearls and gold fringe. Over this gown is worn a gold lace cape and head-dress of the same material, with black parasites and an ornament of brilliant. One of the most striking and unusual riding costumes ever created is worn by Jessie Hallett as a model in "Limousine Life." Miss Hallett claims the distinction of being the first woman in the United States to wear white duck riding trousers. The coat is of blue seppelin cloth with very military lines and instead of a stiff riding hat Miss Hallett's headgear is a soft velour Fedora.

NEWSPAPERMEN'S DRIVE

Times and Colonist Editorial Staffs
Enjoy Trip to Shawnigan.

Leaving the city yesterday morning in four automobiles, the editorial staffs of The Victoria Daily Times and The Victoria Daily Colonist motored out to Shawnigan Lake. There were twenty-six people in the party, and the trip was greatly enjoyed. The run to Shawnigan was taken by way of the cut-off which leaves the main highway just this side of the Malahat summit and though the road over this route is not all that it might be, the scenery was beautiful.

Arriving at the Strathcona Hotel the party sat down to a fine luncheon, arrangements having been made beforehand with Manager M. A. Wyke, who had all preparations made for the reception of his guests. The party unanimously voted the outing to be one of the most enjoyable they had ever experienced.

FROLICS AND FUN

MAKE GOOD SHOW

Six Bright acts on New Pantages Programme
This Week

Six vaudeville features and a contribution from the Pantagescope make up a good bill of entertainment at the Pantages this week. "The College Girls Frolics," is a miniature musical comedy with Billy Tate, comedian, Evelyn Bennett, comedienne, Billy Jackson, juvenile, and a beauty chorus direct from New York. This is a snappy musical offering that makes a strong appeal with the audience. The girls are pretty and wear stunning costumes. The scenic effects are elaborate and the comedy situations are a riotous laugh.

John G. Sparks & Co. offer a Willard Mack comedy sketch, entitled "A Friendly Feud." The principal characters are two Irishmen who have a perpetual disagreement about the topical events of their lives. The wife and daughter of one of the old men add interest to the presentation. Sparks is a clever character actor and is well supported in the cast.

Klass and Termini have a high class musical number. Both men are accomplished performers on the piano, violin, accordion and harp guitar. Dorothy Royce is a comedienne of griphood, and she has the charm of youthfulness, sweetness of voice, combined with a dainty personality, that makes an appeal to her listeners as soon as she appears on the stage. Monetti and Sidelli are two men in a fast knock-out comedy act. Eddie Monetti is a clown who gets the laughs with ease.

They perform difficult tricks with tables and chairs.
Then there is Ben Linn, the original Big Ben—375 pounds of him. He does a clever routine of song and eccentric dances. He is the champion of foolish antics.

Announcement is made by the Pantages management of a big new serial picture story, "The Man of Might," a Vitaphone feature introducing William Duncan in the leading role. This is a wonderful new melodramatic photoplay filled with thrilling interest. The first instalment will be shown next week.

RED CROSS CONCERT

Enjoyable Programme at Princess Theatre on Saturday Night; Attendance Small.

Public support was sadly lacking for the excellent entertainment given at the Princess Theatre on Saturday evening in aid of the Red Cross, the talented artists playing to a small but enthusiastic audience. One of the most interesting features was the work of Miss Kathleen Leslie, who has recently returned from London, and who gave a series of clever impersonations.

Dancing of the modern, as well as Old English, variety was gracefully interpreted by a number of Victoria's young dancers, including Miss Doris Pimley, Miss Queenie Hall, Miss Leona Hunter, Miss Bernice Ruddock, Miss Enid Ruddock, while Misses M. and D. Jewell, L. and A. Hunter, T. Youngs, T. Smith, D. Welsh, E. Ruddock, E. Taylor, M. Duncan, H. Bailey, E. Cruickshank contributed a Remy dance. Other little artists who charmed the audience were little Baby Ruddock, Miss Pearl Baynton and Master Cowper Newbury. Miss Addie Morris and Miss Bernice Ruddock.

Much credit is due the following for their indefatigable efforts in promoting the success of the entertainment: Mrs. Bridges, the organizer; Mrs. J. C. Newbury, stage manager, and the orchestra, comprising Mrs. F. W. Warren, pianist; Mr. Cartwright, first violin; Miss Evelyn Moses, second violin; and Mr. Arthur Warren, second violin.

VICTORIA THE NORTHWEST AND THE WORLD

Lively Batting Features Opening of Victoria League Cricket Season

Foundation Ramblers and Victoria C. C. Make Big Totals; Congos Secure Bowling Record by Putting Christ Church Out for Eleven

Albion beat Incogs by forty-seven runs.
Victoria C. C. beat Foundation Ramblers by an innings and 149 runs.
Foundation Wanderers beat Five C's by six wickets and twelve runs.
Congos beat Christ Church by an innings and twenty runs.

The Albions, Victoria, Foundation Wanderers and Congos were winners in the four league cricket games Saturday, the Foundation Wanderers providing one of the surprises of the day when they set out to overtake a score of 143 runs, and hit them up for the loss of four wickets. The other shipyard team suffered a heavy defeat at the hands of the Victorians. The premier club made 215 runs and got out the Ramblers for twenty-four in the first innings and forty-two in the second. The Congos found Christ Church easy victims, and won by an innings and twenty runs to spare. A record for Victoria League cricket was made when the Congos got out the whole Christ Church side for eleven runs in the second innings.

Foundation Wanderers v. Five C's.
The full four and a half hours was necessary for the Wanderers to knock off the desired runs in the game against the Five C's. It was a case of bulldog meeting bulldog, a very keen rivalry existing between the teams and both being fully represented. Bradford and J. Davis, who played with the Five C's last season, and are opponents this year were more than pleased at being on the winning side. The detailed score below shows the new club got decidedly the better of the argument. The fielding on both sides was very good. S. Davis and Albert Lee made fine catches in the last field. W. H. Edwards, of E. Verrall and J. Davis, respectively.

The Fielders' Prize.
To stimulate keen fielding, the Victoria and District Cricket Association purposes giving a prize to the fielder gaining most points during the season's league cricket. The umpires in each game being the judges. The score was as follows:

SUCCESS PREDICTED FOR UMPIRES' ASSOCIATION

Saturday's cricket games were played under the regulations laid down by the recently formed Umpires' Association, and cricketers generally were pleased with the first results of the association. Many improvements are provided for in the rules to govern the playing of the game this season, and Secretary Gerald Cross expresses thanks for the way players and scorers worked harmoniously with the association. A meeting of the umpires has been called for Thursday next at 8 o'clock at Mr. Cross's residence, Bay Street and Sheibourne Street.

UNITED STATES ENTRY FOR HENLEY REGATTA

Paris, May 12.—For the first time in history, the American army will be represented in the Henley Regatta on July 4.

The United States entries comprise an eight-oared crew and four singles. The Americans will begin training Monday at Asnières, going to the Thames on July 1.

TYEES SHUT OUT TACOMA NINE FOR THE WHOLE SERIES

Tigers Try Hard for Evening Game, But Brown's Boys Make It a Try

SUNDAY'S GAME HAS TO BE POSTPONED

A win of eight to four in the afternoon game Saturday and a tie of seven to seven in the evening game made a complete shut out for the Tigers in the series at Royal Athletic Park. The Tyes and the Tacoma boys were to play Sunday at Port Angeles, but the weather looked too threatening to make the trip and the game was postponed. But for Pinkie Grindle's wild decision in the evening game the local boys would have had a bunch of straight wins to chalk up. By the ninth inning it was far too dark to continue the game for a decision. Catcher Cadman tried hard to waste time when his boys had the lead, so that he could hold the win, but Victoria got a couple in the last inning and robbed the visitors of their only chance of bagging some points during the series.

Engle and Hinkle.
George Engle and Hinkle were aces high with the bats in the afternoon game. "History" as Pinkie calls veteran pitcher Ted Engle got three in the eighth inning, but for the rest of the game he was down consistently. The Tyes fielded better than ever before and all the boys were out to hit. Hinkle pounded the pill for the first homerun in the park this season, swatting it past the left-field into the lone grass. In the seventh he put one over the fence scoring home two men and walking the round himself for the third.

There was no scoring until Victoria's second inning, and Armstrong started working hard. He stole two on a pitcher's error and then Corigan singled and brought him home. Engle hit along the line to third base and Engle and Corigan got a two-bagger on an error in the left field. Ted Engle got one to the fence in the next inning but flew out. Thompson put one over the fence for the Tigers first run and the Victoria fans gave him a good hand for the hit. Mallory who worked well on the mound, but was not helped by his fielders as he should have been, sent back Armstrong, Corigan and Engle in a row in the fourth.

That Decision.
Grindle's decision in the fourth inning of the evening game, when he called Thompson safe after he had been put out by Easterly a yard from the plate, robbed Victoria of the game. At the time Tacoma was leading by five runs and the Victoria fans gave him a good hand for the hit. Mallory who worked well on the mound, but was not helped by his fielders as he should have been, sent back Armstrong, Corigan and Engle in a row in the fourth.

B. C. A. U. MEETING TO-NIGHT.
The regular monthly meeting of the local board of the B. C. A. U. will be held to-night at 8 o'clock in room C of the Y. M. C. A.

As a fisherman Cy Forsythe is a great baseball player. Cy and Duno Hamilton spent all day Sunday trying to land a few trout on the home plate, but for all they know there never were any trout in the river.

The fans believe that no lead is too great for the Tyes to overcome, and they stay to see the last ball pitched. The team is in strong in Victoria.

McKinley had nothing when he went into the box. Before the first inning passed he was yanked in favor of Morton.

Coffman pitched a nice game for the Tigers in the evening. He had Zeinke's number as he struck him out four times. Hinkle also fell down with the stick in front of the red-haired boy.

"Almost" being mentioned advisedly, as Hinkle was so popular with the rail birds Saturday that no visitor could expect the same reception as the local fans, pet fence buster.

Some of the fans thought Hinkle was using a bewitched Irish shillalah when he used to walk to the plate with the big blackthorn, and that his career might be finished with the bat.

Which proves superstitions are a poor horse, because Hinkle's better than ever at swatting them.

It was a good job that George Engle or Harry Morton have a better pitching arm than the fan who dropped the ball from the plate or Ted would soon have his legs worn down by his knees chasing around for the pill.

and tried to make the plate when Wilson laced out a double. Hinkle made a great throw to the plate and Easterly blocked the way and forced Thompson out of the diamond and tagged him out. Grindle was standing behind the pitcher's box and immediately called the base runner safe.

Last Inning Rally.

The Tyes started to fight for the game and when they went to bat in the ninth were two runs to the bad. Grindle tried to stall and force Grindle to call the game. Coffman dirtied a new ball and there was a squabble. He repeated the performance and once more there was a kick. Corigan the first man up drew a pass and Morton and Church went out. Cadman switched his line-up to stall and sent Alexander to leftfield, retired Coffman in favor of Thompson and Hoagland went to first base. Corigan stole second and immediately stole third. Mullen doubled scoring Corigan and Zeinke singled scoring Mullen. The fans hopes ran high as "Homer" Hinkle stopped the plate. Unfortunately the ball struck his bat as he stepped away from a wide ball and went for an easy out at first.

The box score for the two games follows:

Seattle, May 12.—With Bill Gibson, Joe Devine's youthful heaver from the San Francisco Seals on the knoll and pitching the finest kind of ball anyone could care to look at, Seattle's International Northwestern League club blanked Bob Brown's Vancouver Braves yesterday afternoon 2-0. Gibson allowed but three hits.

The baseball franks was as good as any staged on the lot in Rainier Valley this season, and that does not bar the Coast League contests.

Wayne Barham, veteran Northwestern League hurler, sent to the hillock for the Braves at the start of the melee but was given the rest of the day off after one tally and two hits had been chalked up against him in the third chapter.

Nearly two thousand fans were in attendance.

STEFANSSON'S PLAN TO PRESERVE FAUNA OF CANADIAN ARCTIC

How Musk Ox Are Being Gradually Extirpated to Provide Pelts. ---

Few men are in a better position to offer a judgment on the advisability of utilizing the musk ox as an industry for the Canadian Arctic region than Stefansson. The famous explorer's address to members of the House of Commons last week indicated his desirability of establishing an experimental station at Melville Island. Here it is reported there are 4,000 musk ox.

Every reader of Arctic stories is familiar with the progress made with reindeer in Alaska since Dr. Sheldon Jackson introduced them to the attention of the United States authorities and led to an industry being established which has been of the greatest value to the northern aborigines, who now measure a man's wealth by his reindeer herd. An apprenticeship system as herder trains the youth to look after his animals properly and to appreciate their value in nature life.

With regard to the preservation of musk ox, Dr. Henshaw, Chief of the United States Biological Survey, says: "It seems to me, unless prompt and effective measures are taken for its preservation, the musk ox must soon be numbered among the animals that were, but now are not."
Dr. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion Entomologist, states that pelt hunting expeditions destroy the animals in considerable numbers. He remarks: "If the musk ox were left to itself, it would not exist, without any considerable decrease, owing to the natural difficulties of the barren grounds in the region south of Bathurst Inlet. The Dogrib, Slave and Yellow Knife Indians from the west and southwest and the Esquimos from the east, hunt the musk ox from their respective regions. The Indians from the west cannot get into the centre of the country because of the natural difficulties of camping, so that there might always be a nucleus which neither Esquimo nor Indian could reach. But with the temptation of reward, they will destroy every musk ox they see. One of the worst enemies of the musk ox is the so-called sportsman and some of our best ones, who have international reputations, are simply butchers where musk ox are concerned."
Dr. Hewitt points out that the musk ox is particularly subject to destruction, because it has lived in deserted regions and does not know the white man as a dangerous animal. He recommends drastic action to check the extermination of the animals in the Canadian Arctic regions.

COMMISSION PLAN IS FAVORABLY RECEIVED

Civic Authorities Incline to Housing Arrangement Adopted by Quebec

The administration of the money involved in the Dominion housing scheme by a commission responsible to the Provincial Government, such as has been established in Quebec, probably meet with the approval of the civic authorities of Victoria, it was learned to-day. If some plan is not evolved whereby the responsibility for the money is taken off the shoulders of the municipality, it is not thought likely that Victoria will make use of its share of the Housing Fund at all. The Province of Quebec has placed the administration of its share of the national fund in the hands of a commission, the members of which will render their services gratuitously. It is intended that the scheme so drawn up shall in the end apply to the whole Province. The details of the plan are to include a schedule of minimum standards respecting the grouping of houses, provision of open spaces, sizes and types of houses, sizes and heights of rooms, provisions of light and ventilation, heating, lighting, character of materials and so forth.

The municipalities of Quebec under this plan will not have to shoulder financial responsibility in case of possible loss. On the other hand, the agreement submitted to Victoria and other cities by the Minister of Lands leaves the responsibility for the money involved on the corporation. This proposal had been rejected by Vancouver, and the committee of local aldermen considering the question are not, it is understood, disposed to have anything to do with it. It is hoped, however, that some compromise may be arranged.

"The commission plans appeals to me," remarked Mayor Porter this morning, "as long as the responsibility does not rest with the municipality. As a matter of fact, I understand the Government has the power to administer the money itself if it so desires, and I hope it will see its way clear to allow us a different agreement than has so far been submitted."

AFTER SUFFERING A WHOLE YEAR

Mrs. King Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Iola, Kansas.—"I was a constant sufferer from female trouble for about a year. I had pains in back and stomach, in fact all over me, and was all rundown. A friend of mine was cured of the same trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and it gave me health and strength and made a new woman of me. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly, and you may publish my testimonial as it may be the means of helping some other suffering woman."—Mrs. IRENE KING, 105 West Campbell Street, Iola, Kansas.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, ready to bring you health and may save your life.
